

IRENE STIHL HERE LUNN – This old nag has been in the final 8 three times now but has yet to win it. She was sent to the glue factory last year but escaped from her yard using her trainers chainsaw that she smuggled in. Its the only reason she is stihl here. Stihl she could surprise this year.

MICHELLE BIG LIDDLE – Prepares a number of yearlings. A good flogger.....of a golf ball. She has known to be fractious if boxed in or under pressure. She is a maidener in the Kerry McKinley Stakes.

KRISTIE NANA GULBRANSEN – Prefers warm summer racing and has been known to race with her horse cover still on. She is slightly vertically handicapped. She recently tied the knot so is probably well bedridden. She is worth a bet if you can get her out of the sack.

KATHERINE MORE OR LESS MORA – A determined young filly with a young foal at foot. This is her first appearance in the top 8. She has access to performance enhancing drugs, so could be worth a bet if she is not distracted by her young foal winning out to her while she runs.

MELESSA PLEASED TO SEE YA HENDERSON – A well behaved mare, always with a smile. She has produced talented off spring. Has had a recent stable change. She may respond well to an early whipping to gallop past the opposition.

SARAH HOT FORM HARRISON – Has a proven track record being last years Cup Winner. Has a higher handicap this year but has won a number of starts around the country so this young filly would have to be the hot favourite.

LILLI POND MATTHEWS – Another new filly to the starting gates. Has also had a number of successful starts. Her father is a local trainer from the the 'WTF is Ellis' stables which is why she may have lost the odd run. She has the highest handicap in the field apart from her father. She may be changing pastures in the future. Watch.

JILL NOT OVER THE HILL YET SANSON-EMERTON – This well groomed mare may be a dark horse. Another starter from the WTF is Ellis stables. Not alot known about this mare but she had had a number of good runs recently and is in great form. Could be the upsetter of the field.
